

The world's largest WATERFALL is in the OCEAN

Warmer surface waters flow northward

Warm water loses heat to atmosphere and sinks

Denser, cold water flows over the ridge

OVERFLOW

Cold, dense water flows southward in a deep current

Height of the Denmark Cataract (11,500 feet)

Height of the largest waterfall on land (3,212 feet)

Sea Floor

